Customer Problem Statement Template:

This problem statement describes the challenges involved in importing employee information into ServiceNow. Employee details are provided in a spreadsheet and must be temporarily loaded, validated, and mapped to the target Employee table. Employee ID is used to identify existing records for updates and to insert new employee records when no match exists.

The goal is to ensure employee data is transferred accurately and consistently, with appropriate validation and matching, so existing employee records are updated and new employees are created without unnecessary duplicates.
